this is what we do here . . .

BLUE HILLS CORNISH TIN

the only tin producer in Cornwall!

A living working site where our visitors often tell us they now understand it all because they have actually seen it working.

Meet the craftsmen who excavate the ore, process it, smelt it, refine it and make it into the final end product. Follow the working process on a gentle walk around the site.

Or, just visit to buy Cornish Tin giftware and jewellery made here from our beautiful refined Blue Hills Cornish Tin Blue Hills is owned and run by the Wills family. A Cornish family who have been involved with mining for generations and have been producing tin on this site for 35 years.
